COVINGTON AND BANKS

When the Cook Leaves

It's mighty handy to have a fire that can be lighted in a jiffy, the only fuel a match.

One Turn of a Valve and your fire is started with the striking of a match. All expense is as easily stopped when done cooking, and the kitchen remains cool and comfortable for the finishing up.

With Gas Fuel

There is no coal to carry, no ashes, no dirt, no coal pails to litter up the kitchen.

BIRTHS.

REEVES.—News has been received here by relatives, of the birth of a daughter to Rev. Asford Reeves and wife of Athens, Ga. Mr. Reeves is an old Richmond boy, and this news will be a pleasant surprise to his friends here.

Announcements.
Mr. Will Bybee has announced himself as a candidate for the office of Councilman from the East End Ward. Mr. Bybee has had some experience in this line as he has been filling out his father's unexpected term. He wishes the voters of Richmond to consider his claim and will greatly appreciate their support.

New Teacher.
Mr. James T. Barrett, principal of Walters Collegiate Institute has engaged the services of Mr. W. L. Talley of Murfreesboro, Tenn. Mr. Talley is a graduate of Belle Buckle school and of Princeton University. He is a most excellent instructor and is highly endorsed by Princeton. Prof. Hutcheson will be retained at the Institute. It is Prof. Barrett's intention to make this one of the best preparatory schools for boys in the State.

Two Up-to-date Girls.
The Owingville Messenger says that two young ladies near that town each raise every year a good crop of tobacco and other valuable farm products. These crops are the average size that men raise and these young women do not have to do this work as they could live comfortably at home without it. They do the work for the pleasure of having a bank account and the glorious privilege of being independent.

To the Democrats of Madison County.
In this issue of the CLIMAX, my announcement for Jailer of Madison county appears. I appear to the Democrats of this county to help me secure the nomination.

My first vote, in 1862, was Democratic and I have been a Democrat ever since. Have lived in Madison for twenty-four years, and have tried to make a good citizen in every particular. Have been frequently sent by my party to other counties, in State and district elections, quietly doing what I was sent to do, resulting in good for the party, which I love, and if I should be defeated I will still be subject to my party's call. I am feeling good over my prospects for election. There is no clique or clan running me. I am running my own race only. Other good Democrats are my competitors, but I am the oldest man on the track and none would appreciate the nomination more than your humble servant.

B. W. TURNER

A Lexington Murder.

Charleston Hulet, a contractor of Lexington, employed Jas. C. Cooper as a laborer. Nothing was said in regard to the wages and after working a few days Cooper asked for money with which to pay his board. In settling Hulet only allowed Cooper fifty cents per day for his services while the latter claimed one dollar. This Hulet refused and after a quarrel Cooper left; he returned in a few minutes and shot Hulet to death. Cooper was arrested and lodged in jail.

Will Move.

Mr. E. V. Elder, the popular Main street merchant, will, on September first, move his stock of dry goods, notions and millinery to Joe's old stand across the street from his present quarters. The house will be remodeled and will be made one of the handsomest business rooms in the city. Mr. Elder has, by his square and honest dealings and polite attentions, made many friends since his removal to this place, who wish him much success, and an ever increasing business.

Higher Prices For Tobacco.

An exchange says: Ohio and Kentucky tobacco growers expect to get high prices this season because of the indicated shortage in the Southern crop. Official announcement has been made that the high prices for cotton have resulted in a decrease in the tobacco acreage and a corresponding increase in the cotton area. Southern tobacco is to the effect that the profit in cotton is so large under prevailing conditions that tobacco growing will be abandoned in many sections this year. Under the circumstances many of the leaders in the trade look for high prices this year, especially since the weather in some important areas of the tobacco belt has been bad this far.

A Great Success.

The most successful Institute ever held in Madison county was brought to a close last Friday at noon. The attendance was more regular and more interest manifested by the teachers than was ever seen before. A very remarkable feature was that not a teacher during the entire week was heard to say, "Please excuse me." All teachers when called upon made splendid talks or read a most excellent paper.

Madison county never had a more competent and efficient corps of teachers than now, and Supt. Wagers deserves a great deal of credit for having brought the teaching profession up to its present standard. Dr. R. N. Roark, who had charge of the Institute, is one of the oldest Institute instructors in the State, and gave a most excellent lecture on Wednesday evening on the subject, "The Man and the Woman."

Resolutions adopted by the Institute will be published in our next issue.

Green of this county. Mr. Anderson is still here with his sister, Mrs. Mary McClintock and other relatives in the county.

One of the most attractive entertainments of the summer, was the linen shower given by Mrs. James E. Simler for Miss Lucy Crowe on last Thursday afternoon. The prettily decorated parlors were filled with guests who entered heartily into the spirit of the "shower," which culminated in a regular cloudburst on the appearance of the bride. The display of linen was beautiful and praiseworthy and would elicit the heart of any house-keeper. An elegant lunch was served, perfectly completing a delightful afternoon for the bride and her many friends.
